4 Work Program

4.1 Documentation

- IMCA M140: Final comments were received, and the document is on track for publication in early 2025.
- DP1 Document: The final draft is under review, with pending feedback from some members. Expected publication is January 2025.
- M220: Discussions focused on its intended scope. Members agreed the document would remain focused on ASOG and CAM guidelines. Suggestions to incorporate broader planning guidance (e.g., competence, operational responsibilities) were deferred. Expected publication is January 2025.

4.2 DP Event Reporting Scheme and Bulletin

- 184 reports received so far, with the year expected to surpass 200 (a record-breaking number).
- Reporting breakdown: 27% DP incidents, 56% undesired events, and 17% observations. Observations showed significant improvement over the previous year.
- Issues with the reporting form on the new IMCA website were noted, requiring manual distribution by email.

- Bulletin 04/24 is under development, with completion targeted after the holidays.
- Explore improvements to the incident reporting form, including new questions about ASOG usage

4.3 Practitioner Accreditation and CPD

- Accredited members include 119 DP practitioners and 52 DP company authorities.
- The CPD app reached 8,000 registrations and averages 2,200 monthly active users. Module 7 is in development.
- A member noted an internal CPD system for its 1,200 DP operators.
- Ongoing work on whistleblower and investigation procedures was highlighted, aiming for consistency across IMCA sectors.

4.4 Work with Other Organizations

- Discussions with MTS included mixed feedback on the "Impactful Blues" document. The committee anticipates minimal changes before publication.
- Collaborations with IMO on STCW revisions were discussed, particularly the integration of DPO certification into Part A. Concerns over maintaining global standards and avoiding a "race to the bottom" were noted. IMCA reaffirmed its neutral stance.

5 Objectives for 2025

The committee discussed objectives, including:

- Emission reduction strategies, focusing on closed bus tie operations and transitioning to non-carbon fuels.
- Formation of a subgroup to plan the 2025 DP Conference, with topics to include:
 - Greenhouse gas (GHG) emission reduction within DP operations.
 - Safety implications of using alternative fuels.
 - Operational challenges of closed bus tie systems.
 - Development of stand alone Recommended Practice for DP Drills & Preparedness.

7 Any other business

- Feedback on the new IMCA website highlighted navigation issues, described as “awkward and clunky.”
- The U.S. Coast Guard policy on vessel surveillance in OCS waters was clarified. Vessels operating for more than 72 hours must install sophisticated CCTV systems and provide trained personnel for compliance.

M117 was discussed with regards section 5.3 and the use of a trainee DPO

The meeting covered unresolved issues regarding certification and wording adjustments for Junior DPOs (Dynamic Positioning Officers) within IMCA guidelines. Key points of discussion included:

Outstanding Items:

- A review of open items from previous meetings revealed that progress has stalled on Junior DPO certification requirements and operational roles.
- Discussion on discrepancies in applying current guidelines, particularly regarding trainees and uncertified personnel during critical operations.

Key Challenges:

- Cost implications and operational limitations of requiring additional personnel onboard for training purposes.
- Balancing the need for training flexibility without compromising safety or creating loopholes for cost-cutting.

Proposed Solutions:

- Revising wording to permit Junior DPOs with certificates to act as second-persons on watch.
- Removing prescriptive statements that limit training opportunities, while maintaining a risk-based approach to competency assessments.
- The possibility of deleting restrictive sentences to increase flexibility without undermining safety standards.

Operational Realities:

- Differences between shuttle tanker operations and OSV operations were highlighted, with shuttle operations following stricter guidelines due to client and risk-based requirements.
- Need for clear wording to differentiate trainee DPOs from Junior DPOs with certificates.

Future Actions:

- Agreement to form a subcommittee to refine wording and address industry-wide concerns.
- The need to correlate previous feedback and suggestions for actionable revisions.
- The importance of aligning flexibility in training with operational safety standards.
